

Project Information

On April 22, 2021(Earth Day), Camden Mayor Frank Moran, the City of Camden, Cooper's Ferry Partnership, and the Rutgers-Camden Center for the Arts will unveil A New View, an innovative, six-month-long exhibition featuring six, one-of-a-kind public art projects designed to bring attention to Camden's challenges with Illegal Dumping. Additional programming and events will launch in tandem with A New View and continue through October. The six sites for the temporary public art are adjacent to major transportation corridors in Camden neighborhoods of North Camden, Cramer Hill, Gateway, Whitman Park, and East Camden, along the PATCO Speedline, NJ Transit's River Line, and Camden GreenWay. With tens of thousands of daily travelers passing through Camden and by those sites, the city hopes that the visibility of the installations will call further attention to the project, spark conversation, and serve as a reminder of Camden's Challenges with illegal dumping. More information on the project, the artists and the sites selected can be found at www.anewviewcamden.com.

Artist Apprenticeship:

The ANV project team is looking for visual artists and creative workers to assist in the installation process for A New View-Camden public art sites in Camden, NJ during the Spring and Fall of 2021. Hours are available from March through October of 2021.

Pay: $27.00/hour

hours dependent on skills and installation schedules

Applicants should be skilled in at least one of the following areas:

- Painting
- Design
- Building/Construction
- Proficiency with basic tools
- Experience working with clay or other modelling materials

Requirements:

- Experience Enthusiasm, energy and interest in improving Camden
- Good communication skills
- Willing to submit references from previous employers
- Flexible schedule of a minimum of 10 hours per week between March and October and the ability to work events on weekends and nights
- Spanish speaking/writing is a plus
- 18 years or older

Application: If interested, please submit application available at www.anewviewcamden.com ASAP. Application can be completed online or you can download a copy from the website to complete offline. Applications completed offline must be uploaded and emailed to vchandler@coopersferry.com

Please contact vchandler@coopersferry.com with questions.